CELEBRAR LA CULTURA

WHITTIER BOULEVARD ARCH

The Arch is an iconic structure on Whittier Boulevard in East Los Angeles, which is the same street Goodtime Charlie's Tattoo Parlor was in the 70s. The first shop to embrace chicano artists and the black and grey style they pioneered.

EL PARQUE DE MEXICO

The park exhibits statuary and busts honoring heroes and heroines of the struggle for Mexican independence and liberty, and serves as a constant reminder of the community pride that exists in Lincoln Heights.

PLAZA DE LA RAZA

The Plaza is the only multidisciplinary community arts venue dedicated to serving the Eastside neighborhoods, and a self-described "Cultural Oasis In The Heart of East Los Angeles".
