HOLLYWOOD WALK OF FAME

Dr. Buss came to Los Angeles from Wyoming, but he embodied everything our city stands for. Faith, vision, hustle and achievement. So let's start our tour of his favorite city at his star on the walk of fame.

THE FABULOUS FORUM

This is where Jerry's dream started. Or at least the version that had him building a sports franchise that would be synonymous with Los Angeles like the Yankees were with New York. And due to his vision, flair, and commitment to the cause, he brought that dream to life, one star-studded game at a time.

DAN TANA'S

Dr. Buss's favorite restaurant, and a long-time "see and be seen" haunt in trendy West Hollywood. If this establishment doesn't scream "power brokers dine here", no establishment does.

HIS DREAMS BECAME OUR REALITY

PACIFIC OCEAN

Every dreamer finds themselves at the edge of eternity, celebrating wins or coming up with the next move in their master plan. Plus, there aren't many places more beautiful than Malibu while you're staring out at the Pacific.

ANGELS POINT

One of the most incredible views of downtown Los Angeles, this location gives us an opportunity to appreciate the part of the city that Dr. Buss's teams have called home for the last 21 years.
